Rules

The rules are as for regular Killer Bunnies, with one exception. There is no saving of special or very special cards. If a special or very special card is run, then it must be played when it comes up (or discarded at this time). Special cards may be played anytime during your turn, before you draw a card. Very Special cards may be played at any time. Run cards must still be run in the usual fashion. On a given turn, you may play any number of special and very special cards from your hand, but only 1 (or 2 with a bunny triple) run cards (ie. the top and possibly bottom run cards).

The game is played with all the Water and Cabbage cards, but Kaballa is the only market, and only Carrots 1–12 are used. The following card list is so the game is simplified — all of the potentially confusing (to newcomers) cards have been removed, as well as most of the cards that have the potential to severely impact the length of the game (like Mystery Urn and Close the Market).

The card list (work in progress):
